

These are very visible landscapes which frame long distance views; as such their composition and unity is particularly important. Woodland shapes that are unsympathetic to the

The general guideline for hedgerows (field boundaries) in Principal Wooded Hills is to:

- and                    the irregular pattern of assarted fields

Opportunities to reflect the organic field pattern may materialise through the shape of